

Student Ethics Statement

I promise to maintain the privacy of others in the class and not to repeat or share any personal information outside the group.

I promise to respect the instructors and other students, to be a good listener and to remain open to the information offered. I will maintain an open mind and heart and be a vessel for the information.

I promise to respect clients and their privacy on any consultations and to only share information with other students at the proper times as directed by the instructors.

I will work from the light and with the light, and will always strive to "do no harm".
